DECEMBER 2010

“By the tender mercy of our God, the dawn from on high will break upon us, to give light to those who sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.”

Luke 1:78-79

These words were spoken by Zechariah at the birth of John the Baptist. To me they sum up the feel of the gift of Christmas. They are powerful, yet gentle. They are active, yet calming. They challenge and comfort us all at the same time.

The gift that we are about to receive remains as active and alive as it has ever been in our lives. It speaks to each part of our soul. It challenges us in those places we need challenged, and yet it provides comfort and solace from challenges we may face.

I give thanks for these words. I give thanks for the one who spoke them. I give thanks for the one about whom they were said. I give thanks for our Lord Jesus. I give thanks for you.

May the words of Zechariah give you hope and bring you peace.

May you find every blessing this Christmas.

Peace,

Patrick

WAY TO GO WAY COOL SUNDAY SCHOOL!

The kids of Northminster are truly making a difference. During Session 1 of Way Cool, our kids collected or assembled more than 400 meals for the NFCC Food Bank. During session 2 of Way Cool, they put together more than 50 Thanksgiving treat bags for the children living at The Drake House. In addition, they collected over 50 pairs of much needed socks for the kids at The Drake House. During session 3, they will be making blankets to keep the homeless men of Open Door warm this winter and collecting hats and mittens for many other area homeless. Thank you to everyone in the congregation who helped us with the donations that made these projects possible.

Sunday, November 21st was the start of session 3 of Way Cool Sunday School. We are continuing our study of Tests of Faith in the Bible and this session will focus on Christmas Dreams. In session 3 of Hands On Mission, we will begin making blankets and collecting hats and gloves for the homeless. Each week we are asking the kids to bring in a new or gently used hat or pair of mittens that will be donated to the homeless to help keep them warm this winter. We will be collecting hats and gloves every week until Sunday, January 9th. Thank you for helping us to make a difference!

Our own Stacy Bowers will be playing Miss Shields (Ralphie Parker's teacher) in A Christmas Story at Kudzu Playhouse in Roswell. Come enjoy this classic tale of growing up in the Midwest in the 1940's and relive 9-year-old Ralphie's quest to get a genuine Red Ryder BB gun under the tree for Christmas. A great show for all ages. Show times for the first 3 weekends in December are Fridays at 7pm, Saturdays at 2pm & 7pm, and Sundays at 2pm. Special show times December 21 – 23 at 7pm and Christmas eve at 2pm. Tickets are $8.75 for all seats. For more info and reservations call the box office at 770-594-1020 or Advent (from the Latin word adventus, meaning "coming") is a season of the Christian church, the period of expectant waiting and preparation for the celebration of the Nativity of Jesus; in other words, the period immediately before Christmas. It is the beginning of the Western liturgical year and commences on Advent Sunday. The Eastern churches begin the liturgical year on 1 September. The Eastern Christian equivalent of Advent is called the Nativity Fast but it differs both in length and observances.

The progression of the season may be marked with an Advent calendar, a practice introduced by German Lutherans. At least in the Roman Catholic and Lutheran calendars, Advent starts on the fourth Sunday before December 25; in other words, the Sunday between November 27 and December 3 inclusive.

Latin adventus is the translation of the Greek word parousia, commonly used in reference to the Second Coming. Christians believe that the season of Advent serves a dual reminder of the original waiting that was done by the Hebrews for the birth of their Messiah as well as the waiting that Christians today endure as they await the second coming of Christ.

The theme of readings and teachings during Advent is often to prepare for the Second Coming while commemorating the First Coming of Christ at Christmas. With the view of directing the thoughts of Christians to the first coming of Jesus Christ as Savior, and to his second coming as Judge, special lessons are prescribed for each of the four Sundays in Advent.

The usual liturgical color in Western Christianity for Advent is purple or violet. The color is often used for hangings around the church, on the vestments of the clergy, and often also the tabernacle. On the 3rd Sunday of Advent, Gaudete Sunday, rose may be used instead, referencing the rose used on Laetare Sunday, the 4th Sunday of Lent. In some Anglican and Lutheran churches, blue is the liturgical colour for Advent, a custom traced to the usage of the Church of Sweden (Lutheran) and the medieval Sarum Rite. This color is often referred to as "Sarum blue". Red is used in the Eastern churches.

Many churches make use of Advent wreaths during this season, with one candle representing each of the four Sundays of Advent. The rose candle is lit on the 3rd Sunday of Advent. During Christmas Day, four lit white candles are used.

The "Late Advent Weekdays", December 17-24, mark the singing of the Great Advent 'O antiphons'. These are the antiphons for the Magnificat at Vespers, or Evening Prayer (in the Roman Catholic and Lutheran Churches) and Evensong (in Anglican churches) each day, and mark the forthcoming birth of the Messiah. They form the basis for each verse of the popular Advent hymn, "O come, O come, Emmanuel".

From the 4th century, the season was kept as a period of fasting as strict as that of Lent (commencing in some localities on 11 November; this being the feast day of St. Martin of Tours, the fast became known as "St. Martin's Lent", "St. Martin's Fast" or "the forty days of St. Martin"). The feast day was in many countries a time of frolic and heavy eating, since the 40-day fast began the next day. In the Anglican and Lutheran churches this fasting rule was later relaxed, with the Roman Catholic Church doing likewise later, but still keeping Advent as a season of penitence. In addition to fasting, dancing and similar festivities were forbidden.

In many countries, Advent was long marked by diverse popular observances, some of which still survive. In England, especially in the northern counties, there was a custom (now extinct) for poor women to carry around the "Advent images", two dolls dressed to represent Jesus and the Blessed Virgin Mary. A halfpenny was expected from every one to whom these were exhibited, and bad luck was thought to menace the household not visited by the doll-bearers before Christmas Eve at the latest.

In Normandy, farmers employed children under twelve to run through the fields and orchards armed with torches, setting fire to bundles of straw, and thus it is believed driving out such vermin as are likely to damage the crops. In Italy, among other Advent celebrations, is the entry into Rome in the last days of Advent of the Calabrian pifferari, or bagpipe players, who play before the shrines of Mary, the mother of Jesus, the Italian tradition being that the shepherds played these pipes when they came to the manger at Bethlehem to pay homage to the infant Jesus. It is the second most important tradition behind Easter for Roman Catholics.

In Anglican churches the Sunday before Advent is sometimes nicknamed Stir-up Sunday after the opening lines of the collect for that day. In the Roman Catholic Church, the final Sunday of the liturgical year before Advent has been celebrated as the Feast of Christ the King since 1969. This feast is now also widely observed in many Anglican, Lutheran, and other Protestant churches, sometimes as the Reign of Christ. The First Sunday of Advent, called Levavi is thus the first Sunday of the liturgical year.

Bible Study

Presbyterian Women Weekly Bible study begins again in the new year. We will study Jonah, A Life Interrupted, by Priscilla Shirer.

What do we do when God interrupts our lives? Many times, like Jonah, we run! In this 7-session Bible study, Priscilla redefines interruption and shows that interruption is actually God's invitation to do something beyond our wildest dreams. When Jonah was willing to allow God to interrupt his life, the result was revival in an entire city.

Dates will be January 12, January 26, February 2, February 9, March 2, March 9, and March 23. These dates may adjust depending on the participants.

Please call Arlene Bennett ~ 770-777-9611, or email me at catstate@aol.com for more information.
