

Hope

1 A shoot shall come out from the stump of Jesse, and a branch shall grow out of his roots.

2 The spirit of the LORD shall rest on him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and the fear of the LORD.

3 His delight shall be in the fear of the LORD. He shall not judge by what his eyes see, or decide by what his ears hear;

4 But with righteousness he shall judge the poor, and decide with equity for the meek of the earth; he shall strike the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips he shall kill the wicked.

5 Righteousness shall be the belt around his waist, and faithfulness the belt around his loins.

6 The wolf shall live with the lamb, the leopard shall lie down with the kid, the calf and the lion and the fatling together, and a little child shall lead them.

*For unto us a child is born unto us a son is given.
Isaiah 9:6*

7 The cow and the bear shall graze, their young shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 The nursing child shall play over the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put its hand on the adder's den.

9 They will not hurt or destroy on all my holy mountain; for the earth will be full of the knowledge of the LORD as the waters cover the sea.

Isaiah is a hope-filled book, a book crying out for justice, a book that proclaims the coming of the Savior, a book that assures us that "those who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint.," (40:31).

This year, as every year, we will light five candles: a candle for hope, a candle for peace, a candle for joy, and a candle for love. Finally, we will light the Christ candle for the One who embodies and fulfills the other four.

Here is my prayer for you this Advent season. I pray that you will get a glimpse of the hope for which you are searching. I pray you will get a sense of the peace you need. I pray you will remember the joy that can still be experienced even in life's most difficult circumstances, and I pray that you will remember that you are loved by your God, the child whose birth we await.

Peace,

Patrick Day

HomeStretch

HomeStretch client families are very excited about NPC's new Giving A Meal A Month ministry. One meal each month that is planned, with ingredients already supplied, is a great boost to families strapped for time and cash. Stated one client, "I appreciate the donation very much. Groceries are such a necessity." Thanks to all who have picked up yellow bags and returned them to church, bursting with menu items!

One of our families will be leaving the program in December, and we will welcome a new family at the beginning of the new year.

Volunteers are needed to help the family move to their new home on December 15th.

Are you good at managing your household budget? Beginning in January, our new family will need a financial mentor. Household items and furniture will also be needed to prepare the unit for the new family. Needed items include:

- Three bedrooms of furniture
- Kitchen table and chairs
- Television

Please contact Nancy Campbell at 770-662-0288 or campbellrs@mindspring.com if you can help with any of these HomeStretch needs.

Advent and the Advent Wreath

Advent (from the Latin word adventus meaning "coming") is a season observed in many Western Christian churches, a time of expectant waiting and preparation for the celebration of the Nativity of Jesus at Christmas. It is the beginning of the Western liturgical year and commences on Advent Sunday, called Levavi. The Eastern churches' equivalent of Advent is called the Nativity Fast, but it differs both in length and observances and does not begin the church year, which starts instead on September 1.^[1]

The progression of the season may be marked with an Advent calendar, a practice introduced by German Lutherans. At least in the Roman Catholic, Anglican, Lutheran and Methodist calendars, Advent starts on the fourth Sunday before December 25, the Sunday from November 27 to December 3 inclusive.

Latin adventus is the translation of the Greek word parousia, commonly used in reference to the Second Coming of Christ. For Christians, the season of Advent serves as a reminder both of the original waiting that was done by the Hebrews for the birth of their Messiah as well as the waiting of Christians for Christ's return.

The Advent wreath, or Advent crown, is a Christian tradition that symbolizes the passage of the four weeks of Advent in the liturgical calendar of the Western church. The Advent Wreath is traditionally a Lutheran practice, albeit it has spread to many other Christian denominations.

It is usually a horizontal evergreen wreath with four candles and often, a fifth, white candle in the center. Beginning with the First Sunday of Advent, the lighting of a candle can be accompanied by a Bible reading and prayers. An additional candle is lit during each subsequent week until, by the last Sunday before Christmas, all four candles are lit. Some Advent wreaths include a fifth, "Christ" candle which can be lit at Christmas. The custom is observed both in family settings and at public church services.

The most popular colors for the Advent candles are purple and rose. In the Western church, purple is the historic liturgical color for three of the four Sundays of Advent: once the color associated with royalty, it symbolizes Christ as the "Prince of Peace." Rose is the color for the Third Sunday of Advent, known as Gaudete Sunday from the Latin word "rejoice." Gaudete Sunday anticipates the joy of the Christmas celebration, so its color is a mixture of Advent purple and Christmas white. It may also symbolize the color of early dawn. In Protestant churches, it is more usual to use four red candles (reflecting their traditional use in Christmas decorations) because rose vestments and decorations are not commonly used in Protestant churches. Blue is also a popular alternative color for both Advent vestments and Advent candles, especially in some Anglican and Lutheran churches. This is in keeping with the liturgical seasons; blue means hope and waiting, which aligns with the seasonal meaning of Advent. Other variations of the Advent wreath add a white candle in the center to symbolize Christmas, sometimes known as the "Christ candle." It can be lit on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day.

A Word from Our Moderator

I had the opportunity to hear Tom Tewell, Director of the Macedonian Ministries speak at Oglethorpe Presbyterian Church. His sermon was entitled "What Are You Waiting For". As I was listening to his message, I found myself thinking about our goals for this year in Presbyterian Women. He made three points regarding the future at OPC, but I saw a strong correlation to our goals. His three points were:

1) not to procrastinate; 2) step out of your comfort zone; and 3) invite someone.

We have been talking about how personal invitations have not only brought many of our members to NPC but more importantly helped to engage them in the life of our church. Being a part of the church is the key to being a member. I feel confident in saying that many of the Women engaged in PW would tell you that it is because of PW that they first got involved at NPC. If you are not already involved, I strongly encourage you to take the next step, do not put it off even if it is not in your comfort zone and find out where you can plug in. I would love to help connect you. My email address is carol.coulter@comcast.net or you can call me at (770)814-2406. You can also find more information on the NPC Website <http://www.northminsteratl.org/ministries/adult/women/>

December Missions

Our December mission will be "The Cookies with Santa" to be held on Sunday, December 11th.

The Children's Choir will be performing their musical at 5:00pm in the Sanctuary. The Fellowship Committee will be hosting a Potluck Dinner in the Fellowship Hall at the conclusion of the Musical, at approximately 5:45pm.

In lieu of bringing a new, unwrapped toy this year, we are requesting that each family support the Mission and Outreach Angel Tree and/or The Alternative Gift Mall.

The Cookies with Santa activities begin at 6:30pm. Children can visit with Santa in the Fireside Room and have their photos taken with him. In the Way Cool Drama room, children can make Christmas crafts and decorate their own sugar cookies.

For any questions, please contact Nancy Wade at 770-362-2207 or
